The President's Circle

Hello GSQA!

How are you? How's your 2016 going so far? Well, my year is off to a great start.

Do you begin the new year with a checklist? I do. Here's mine.

1. Kick off the year with the January General Meeting - check. (I had fun. Did you?)
2. Attend and participate in every POE with Paula Mathews – check. Actually, I believe I laugh more than I participate.

Sew. Much. Fun.

3. Enjoy Rosebud Auction Luncheon. It's sure to be a rousing success
4. Survive (ummm..... make that thoroughly savor) every minute and memory made during the 2016 Quilt Show. So much talent to inspire and so much joy to share.
5. After Quilt Show - just breathe

Okay, moving on.

Have you heard about this year's President's Challenge? No? Well, here it is. Invite Me To Your Guild Meeting, please. Really, I'm serious. As President, I would like to attend EVERY GSQA Guild meeting and meet every member of our membership. Put me on the meeting agenda. You'll be glad you did.

And, I may bring a friend. Or two. From the Board. (You know, the fun ones.) (Umm... I might get in trouble for that last comment. hehehe)

So, how does this work? Well, I'm not sure. It's never been done before. Since simple is what I do best we'll start with simple. Talk to your guild and get your guild on my calendar. Starting now. My contact information is in this newsletter on page 2 and on the website. The best way to reach me is by phone at (504) 508-2618.

Let's get this Challenge started!

Your GSQA President,
Cindy Champagne

P.S. This article has been called The President's Corner. I don't like being in the corner so what if we change it to The President's Circle? Just saying....

Wasted Women would like to offer GSQA guilds the opportunity to make quilts for flood relief victims. We have fabric available for this work. For information on specific requirements to obtain the fabric, please contact:

GSQA SEMINAR NEWS

SEMINAR FEES

I have spent my first weeks as your new Seminar Director reviewing all the information available regarding past seminars. And I must say that I was shocked at the benefit that members receive for their VERY LOW Seminar registration fees. Top of the line national teachers who ordinarily teach at huge venues such as the Houston or Paducah Quilt Shows! Extraordinary projects brought into the hands of even our smallest guilds who could not hope to bring such teachers to their location. The convenience of shopping within steps of classrooms, with vendors who have the latest merchandising trends readily available, instead of travelling for hours to visit one shop. Comfortable accommodations to visit with old friends, make new friends and surround yourself with enough inspiration to feed your creative soul.

When I compare the extremely low registration fees of $65 per one-day class with fees paid by other organizations, I am again shocked into speechlessness! The Embroiderer's Guild of America charges a $100 non-refundable fee and a one-day class fee is $75. If the member does not stay at the host hotel, an additional facility fee of $75 is charged to offset the cost of classroom rental. Fees at Shipshewanna Quilt Festival can cost $85 for a three-hour class. The Tyler Bead retreat costs $275 for two days.

From what I can tell, the registration fee has not changed in several years. And that is in spite of the rising prices of everything from transportation (airline fees), costs covered by per diems paid to the teachers (meals, parking at airports or transportation to/from airport, luggage charges for bringing class samples), accommodations (hotel rooms), much less the workshop fees that the premium national teachers charge (prices can range from $400 to $800 PER DAY).

Yes, I am shocked at the benefits that members receive by seminar attendance! There is no better bargain in town.

When I became Seminar Director, I thought the Seminar was to be a money-making endeavor for GSQA. That thought was quickly corrected by several people who told me that Seminar is the educational event used to meet our mission statement "to create, stimulate, maintain and promote an interest in all things related to quilts and quilt making through community service endeavors, quilt shows, seminars, and workshops".

However, everyone agreed that Seminar should be close to a "break-even" event, meaning that the fees collected should come close to paying for expenses associated with Seminar. Sadly that is not the case. In 2015 approximately 140 members attended Seminar. $18,830 in class fees were collected. Five national teachers and two local teachers presented seventeen classes. Actual teaching fees paid were $10,350. Additional costs, such as hotel rooms, mileage, airfare and lecture fees, associated with the teachers were $4,876.30. Although this left a balance of just over $3,600, that amount was insufficient to cover the costs of classroom rental (almost $5700) paid to the hotel. These expenses do not include even the very minimal administrative expenses incurred. If a $25 registration fee had not been collected for each student who registered, Seminar would have lost in excess of $2000.

When negotiating with a hotel to host Seminar, there are two major components which are included in the hotel contract – classroom space and sleeping rooms. The sleeping rooms compromise the revenue that the hotel expects to make. The hotel contract actually specifies the number of sleeping rooms that are anticipated to be used during the Seminar. The ratio of sleeping rooms to classroom space determines the amount charged for use of the classrooms. Depending upon how many sleeping rooms are anticipated on being “sold”, classroom space may be provided complimentary – without payment. For GSQA Seminars, since most of the members who attend seminar are local and do not stay in the hotel, GSQA must pay for the classroom space. If members choose not to stay in the Seminar hotel, then GSQA is penalized by not meeting the requirements of the contract. An individual member may benefit by finding a hotel at a cost less than agreed to at the hotel hosting Seminar, but in the long run, this hurts Seminar profits and thus penalizes GSQA.

It is my intention to continue to host the best possible Seminars now and in the future, at the lowest possible cost to individual members. We will continue to strive to find the best teachers to teach the newest innovations in quilting to our members and to make Seminar the best possible experience in our region.

Therefore, I would strongly urge you to stay at the hosting hotel. Encourage your friends to attend Seminar. Be sure to register for yourself. I know I can't wait to see what 2017 brings! Let me hear from you. Email me at brlotrfan@yahoo.com.

GSQA is offering a retreat from Friday, Sept 23 thru Sunday, Sept 25, with the option to stay over Sunday night and departing after lunch on Monday. This option is only available if 15 or more participants decide to take advantage of it.

Participation is limited to the first 44 people who sign up.

There is also a change in policy for sign-up dates! Please read carefully. Sign-up is based on postmark date and status. Retreat is open first to GSQA members who have never been, then to GSQA members who have been, then on a first-come, first served basis.

Important Sign-up Dates

Retreaters' Status	Postmark Date must be between:
Never attended retreat	April 27, 2016 and May 3, 2016
Prior Retreaters	May 4, 2016 – May 17, 2016

Accommodations – All rooms are double occupancy. All rooms have twin beds and a private bath. Some rooms are handicapped accessible. The rooms are located in seven different buildings that are various distances from the dining hall and sewing room. Room assignments will be based on a first-come/first served basis, with consideration given to those with a physical NEED to travel the least distance. Please keep this consideration in mind. The rooms DO NOT have keys. You are able to lock doors from the inside of the room, but you will not be able to lock the doors when you leave the room and go to the sewing room or dining room. Usually, only GSQA members and Jacobs Camp staff will be on the grounds during the retreat. Jacobs Camp is a secure fenced location, with a state trooper who lives on-site. All linens are provided (sheets, pillows and towels). However, remember that Jacobs is not a hotel and does not have staff to refresh linens. If you want fresh linens each day, bring your own supply. Meals – A dining hall is located next to the sewing room. All meals will be served buffet style. Meals provided include lunch and dinner on Friday, breakfast, lunch and dinner on Saturday, and breakfast and lunch on Sunday. For those who opt to stay over on Sunday night, dinner (Sunday) and breakfast and lunch on Monday will be provided. Coffee and bottled water will be available. A cooler with ice will be available to cool drinks which you choose to bring, or you may purchase soft drinks from machines on-site. You are welcome to bring your own choice of snacks with you as well, but be prepared to share! Jacobs Camp has a no smoking policy and does not allow alcoholic beverages on site.

Cars are to remain in the designated parking lot the entire time at Jacobs, except during loading, unloading and if you choose to go exploring to find the quilt shops. Cars ARE NOT to be parked at cabins and ARE NOT to be driven back and forth between the sewing room and cabins

Please DO NOT park on the grass, except in the designated parking area. If you need assistance parking your car after unloading or retrieving your car to load it up, please let me know. Since parking is limited, carpooling is strongly encouraged. Once you have arrived and unloaded, your car will be parked and not used again until departure, or in case of emergency.

The cost for a three-day, two-night stay is $235 for all rooms. The cost for four-day, three-night stay is $340. Again, at least 15 participants must select the extra night in order for this option to be available. Walking from lodging to the dining hall and sewing room will be required. Please bring comfortable shoes. All walking will be done on paved (asphalt) roads or walkways. There is adequate lighting provided by the street lights to allow stitching into the night, if you wish. The distance from the furthest lodging and the dining/sewing rooms is less than two city blocks.

To assist with loading and unloading, we will have available a wagon corral to transport sewing machines and such into the sewing room.

Wi-Fi will be available in/near the dining/sewing room area and probably through most of the lodging. Remember to dress in layers, as the temperature in the dining hall/sewing room will be kept moderate. Special Events include a Mixer Dinner Friday evening where you will be seated with members you may not know. Show and Tell will be done twice – we'll split the alphabet and half of the people with show projects on Friday night and the other half on Saturday night. Show and Tell will be limited to one quilt only. You will not be required to participate. We will also try to get our massage therapist back again. Reservations may be made from now until July 1 with a $50 non-refundable deposit. Invoices will be sent shortly after July 1 with the balance due and MUST BE PAID IN FULL BY AUGUST 1. National Quilt of Valor Sew Day

On Feb. 6 over 70 local quilters met at the St. Gabriel Community Center to participate in the National Quilt of Valor sew day and completed 6 patriotic quilt tops for Louisiana veterans. An additional 7 quilts are near completion.

The high point of the day was a presentation ceremony of completed patriotic quilts to 13 local veterans in honor of their service. Recipients included active military personnel with service in Iraq and Afghanistan to veterans from WWII, the Korean conflict, Viet Nam and the Cold War.

The event was sponsored by Daisy Comeaux of Cottage Quilts & Creations in St. Gabriel, The Giving Quilt, Inc. and The Wasted Women's Bee. Lunch was provided by American Legion Post 312 of St. Gabriel.
